

Now published – Derek Hole’s new book ...

Fellow Citizens of Heaven

The 30th May 1973 saw the induction and collation of Derek Norman Hole to the Benefice of St James the Greater, Leicester in the Diocese of Leicester. He remained vicar until 1992 when, on 13 September, he was installed as Provost of Leicester – a post he held for seven years. During his time in Leicester Derek delivered the Address at over 200 funerals. This book contains 50 of these. Not only do they brilliantly illuminate Derek’s spirituality, but also shed a penetrating light on the social scene of late 20th and early 21st century Leicester. Future historians of Leicester will find this volume a valuable source for their further researches.

Fellow Citizens of Heaven: Four decades of Funeral Addresses, by Derek N Hole. Published by the Friends of St James the Greater, Leicester, 2021. ISBN: 978-1-008-99353-2. Paperback, 195pp. £12.50 + £3.24 p & p. To obtain a copy log onto www.lulu.com and select Bookstore from the menu bar at the top of the screen. Enter Fellow Citizens of Heaven in the search box which appears, press Return and follow the screen prompts. You will need to pay by Credit or Debit card. Delivery time is about a week.