Prayer for the Week

O Lord, we beseech you mercifully to hear the prayers
of your people who call upon you;
and grant that they may both perceive and know
what things they ought to do,
and also may have grace and power faithfully to fulfil them;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

BISHOP MARTYN offers a ‘Thought for the Fortnight’

“The twelve asked him about the parables” Mark 4:10

True Christians are committed to learning from Jesus and one of the best ways to learn is to ask questions. I love it when my children ply me with questions. Like all children they are naturally inquisitive about everything – when they see something new or there is something they don’t understand, they blurt out a question.

The first disciples – the twelve – often did the same. Sometimes they were ridiculous questions, like James and John asking to sit on his left and right in glory. Sometimes they were inspired questions: “Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?” Sometimes they showed a woeful lack of understanding, but always they were indicative of a life committed to learning from Jesus.

When we ask questions, we can expect to be shaped by God. My aim is to remain inquisitive until the day I die.

Martyn, Bishop of Leicester
